BIGGER FIELD FOR OGDEN WHOLESALE

W. H. Chevers, representing the Southern Pacific in Ogden, has received the new freight tariffs which are to be effective July 11 to Nevada points.

The new rates open up a larger field to Ogden merchants, as the reduction in freight charges places our shippers on an equal footing with those of California, to as far west as Winnemucca.

Heretofore Ogden wholesalers have had to pay $1.54 a hundred on goods to the center of Nevada, but after July 11 the rate will be only $1.15.

Local houses always have been able to obtain a share of the Nevada trade, though handicapped by the more favorable rates granted by the Southern Pacific to San Francisco and other competing California points. From now on the rivalry will be more intense and eventually the larger part of the wholesale business of the eastern half of Nevada should come to Ogden.

The equalizing of these railroad rates has been sought after by Ogden business men for years and now that the local demands have been acceded to, there should be a strong campaign inaugurated in the new field that is opened to them.

THE UNMERGING OF THE HARRIMANS

The Pacific coast papers are puzzled over the attitude of the attorney general in the unmerging of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, and the Chronicle asks the pointed question why, if the Central Pacific is to be segregated from the Union Pacific, the Baltimore & Ohio is not taken out of the control of the Pennsylvania system.

As to Southern Pacific stock lying in the Oregon Short Line treasury, the Chronicle says:

For part of it Pennsylvania has Baltimore & Ohio stock to trade and the rest a syndicate will buy and give a long option on it to the Pennsylvania.

And that suggests the question why, if railroads generally are to be torn to pieces, our ferocious attorney general has not long since haled Pennsylvania into court with a demand that it shall sell its Baltimore & Ohio stock right now whether there is any buyer for it or not.

For if the merger of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific was an unlawful combination, the ownership of Baltimore & Ohio stock by Pennsylvania must be an offense which smells to heaven.

It is very rank, for while the lines of Union and Southern Pacific have eastern and Pacific terminals, their course lies hundreds of miles apart and the roads serve entirely different sections.

On the contrary the lines of the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania serve the same territory from New York to St. Louis and in many places almost or quite in sight of each other.

If it is sinful for Union Pacific to own Southern Pacific stock Pennsylvania sounded the lowest depths of depravity when it invested in Baltimore & Ohio.

The attorney general seems to be playing favorites. We do not hear even a hint of any intention to pry apart the Vanderbilt system with its Lake Shore and Michigan Central paralleling each other from Buffalo to Chicago, to say nothing of the "Nickel Plate," which in places almost runs on the very right of way of the Lake Shore and Michigan Central.

The ownership of the Oregon Short Line stock of the Southern Pacific is in the control of the Southern Pacific, for although it is a minority holding it is so nearly a majority that in practice it becomes so.

What Pennsylvania proposes to do with the Southern Pacific stock if it gets it does not yet appear. There are lots of things it could do with it if it had it. One Pennsylvania man says it will merely collect dividends. It will probably do more, but it is safe to say it will not give up Central Pacific.

SALT LAKE SAYS PROSPERITY IS COMING

One of the most prominent business men of Salt Lake City, who has traveled extensively of late, says the country is facing the greatest prosperity in its history.

We do not know his politics, but understand he is classed as a Republican. One's political views have a bearing on his opinion of the business outlook. A strong protectionist is apt to be very much alarmed at this particular time over threatened free trade, but if a protectionist, notwithstanding the discouraging features of the Wilson bill, can see good times just ahead, then we all should have faith.

A young man from Ogden had consulted the Salt Lake City, who has advised as to whether it would be advisable to go into business. His answer was a positive yes.

"I have been over the country the past few months," said Mr. O., "and am convinced that nothing but crop failures can retard the coming of genuine prosperity. The country has been mending ever since 1907. The panic of that year forced an extremely conservative policy on our banks and brought about liquidation in all weak spots. Now we are on a most substantial basis. There has been no inflation for nearly six years, and as soon as the undue alarm over what the administration is to do with the tariff passes, business will revive."

Let us hope that the man in Salt Lake has seen with a prophetic eye. This much we do know, that if the Democratic policies bring on a depression the country will be compelled to endure only three years of adversity, as by that time Wilson and his advisers will be kicked out of office and a quarantine be established against the Democratic party for a period of not less than 20 years.

On the other hand, if the Wilson administration is accompanied by prosperity, all will be well.

So why worry?

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS ON A WRONG MISSION

We fail to discover much difference between the sabotage of the Industrial Workers of the World and anarchy.

The Industrial Worker, organ of the discontented, supplies this definition of sabotage:

"A slashed warp, a loosened bolt, an uncaught thread, a shifting of dyes. Sabotage is an individual act performed for a class purpose. It may be denounced as anarchy, but that scares no workers in these rebellious days. Sabotage, coupled with revolution and individual unionism, finally means that it will be dangerously unprofitable to operate industries, that the employing class will be forced to turn them over to those who perform the useful work in mines, mills, factories, workshops, forests and farms. And that will be the culmination of the present social revolution."

When the Industrial Workers of the World have won control of the machinery of the world, what then?

How much better off than now will they be? The power of commercialism, which now forces the shiftless and lazy to move or be stepped on, will be gone and there will be nothing to take its place. The spirit of anarchy will be supreme and the fellow who objects to what little work may be allotted to him will have a precedent for rebelling by resorting to sabotage.

Anarchy is good for no one, not even the anarchist, and sabotage is anarchy.

EXPENDITURES BY D. & R. G.

The budget of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad for 1913, as completed by E. L. Brown, shows that the company will have expended $5,000,000 for improvements and equipment by the end of the fiscal year.

The biggest item of expense is for equipment, amounting to about $2,500,000. Rails, tracks and roadbed come next, the amount being $700,000. Permanent bridges will have cost $300,000. For a new engine house at Minutemen, Malts and Soda there will be paid out $150,000. Shop tools will cost $60,000 and machine ditchers $40,000 more.

For fencing and other miscellaneous items the expense will be about $200,000. The labor situation is good, and receipts for the fiscal year will be the greatest in the history of the property and the surplus will exceed $1,700,000.

Free Concert at the Hermitage every afternoon and Sunday evenings.

GERMANS ON A SPECIAL TRAIN

According to recent advices received at the depot master's office, the special train, accommodating delegates from Los Angeles to Denver to attend the Germania Turnverein convention, will arrive in Ogden about 5 p. m. Monday. It is anticipated that a number of local Germans will be on hand to meet the party.

Information has also been received that many of the delegates, before returning east and west to their homes, will visit the Yellowstone National park. During their stop in Ogden after the convention, it is planned to have many visit the canyon.

Members of the Oregon-Michigan society, occupying four Pullman cars, a baggage car and a diner, will arrive in Ogden over the Short Line from Portland at midnight on June 28, en route to Detroit.

Free Concert at the Hermitage every afternoon and Sunday evenings.
